TO MISS K .-- BY ALPHEUS. Oft at evening as I've wandered, As I o'er the day have pondered, Have I thought of "what's to-morrow," Whether peace and calm, or sorrew-Oft again, in stillness sitting, While across my mind were flitting Thoughts consoling, thoughts that woed me, Thoughts that with true love imbued me.

Angels 'round me, watch seemed keeping, While my love was sweetly sleeping, Whispering softly in my hearing, Words so charming, so endearing, That my feelings with them blended-And peace triumphed, sadness ended. Then, then my soul with love replete, I thought I saw around my seat, A light, though dim at first it seemed With increased radiance early gleamed.

Soon 'round me shown a halo bright, The splendor of my soul's sunlight-There, then sat I, a lover true, My brow was moistened with the dew-And naught could gain a thought from me, For all was lost, my love in thee! Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

GEN. TOM THUMB IS now twenty-three years of age. Barnum first engaged him at eight dollars a week; then for seven years. at seven dollars a week, and all charges of iving and travel, and raised it to twenty-five dollars a week ere the year was out. When he took him to England, he gave him fifty dollars a week. The dwarf's body, small as it was, must have been quite colossal, in comparison with Barnum's soul. He proved grateful, however, for small favors, for when Barnum fell into misfortune, the dwarf suggested another visit to Europe, by which Barnum was put into funds once more. The dwarf is now worth $50,000, made in exhibitions on his own account.

"Going to do it" never made a fortune, built a house, or won a name. "Going to do it" has been the bane of more people than would fill the census of a dozen New Yorks. The man who is always "going to do it" rarely if ever, does it. The only thing he does do is to go out of the world without doing it .-If he has a task which must be done, he at once announces, with a deal of boasting and a great waste of words, time, and breath, interest from the day of sale, and to be secured that he is "going to do it." And while he is by the bonds of the purchaser, and a retention of thus "going to do it" somebody else who is not suspected of "going to do it," does it and reaps the reward.
